

2022 Community Impact Report

Coordinated Care is committed to transforming the health of the community one person at a time through affordable healthcare coverage, whole person health and reinvesting in partners and communities across Washington.

As a local managed care organization, our community giving program focuses on ways to influence health and wellness beyond a visit to the doctor. This includes food insecurity, access to care, equity, and other social determinants of health. We partner with organizations who know their local neighborhoods and how best to serve the needs of our communities.

Since 2020, Coordinated Care has invested $6 million with more than 200 community partners and projects. This report highlights some of our collective impact from 2022.
